

JOH722 JOHN DEERE WOMEN'S WESTBURY JACKET BY R. M. WILLIAMS

Designed for cooler conditions and everyday uniform wear, the John Deere Westbury Jacket by R.M. Williams combines classic workwear styling with durable construction and practical warmth. Suitable for dealership environments, field visits and outdoor work, the jacket provides reliable insulation while maintaining a clean, professional appearance.

Constructed with a cotton-rich outer shell and a warm padded lining, the jacket offers comfort and durability for daily wear. A full front zip with storm flap closure helps protect against wind and light rain, while the stand collar provides additional coverage around the neckline. Functional pocketing ensures convenient storage, making it suitable for everyday operational use.

Blending R.M. Williams heritage design with contemporary John Deere branding, the Westbury Jacket is a dependable outerwear option for teams requiring premium quality and consistent performance across a range of working environments.
